

Jade Elder Transmissions

Debi Dipperstarlight

Qingdao, China.

© 2007 by Debi Dipperstarlight
All rights reserved.

ISBN

Printed on the Planet Earth

Acknowledgements

These transmissions would not have occurred if it were not for Linda Frisch, who caretakes the Jade Skull Beings. It was Linda's request to "read" her "Jade People" that sent me on the journey of communion with the Jade Elders.

That journey would not have occurred without Linda, for it was she who recognized their value and the fact they were eager to communicate with the wider public.

Preface

The subject of crystal skulls has fascinated many for some time. Famous ancient crystal skulls, like the Mitchell-Hedges one, have opened awareness of these beings into the general community. Nonetheless, before commencing these channels I had no particular interest in these “artifacts” – and certainly didn’t have any myself.

In August of 2007, Linda Frisch of Sanctuary of the Ancients contacted me, asking me to channel information from a collection of her Jade Crystal Skulls. The skulls had been in Linda’s family for some generations. Realizing their antiquity, Linda felt the Jade Crystal Skulls may, like other skulls, have messages to impart.

Linda sent me pictures of her Jade skull-beings, including one that is of a grouping known as the Jade Council. The picture arrived in my mailbox early August of 2007, and I set to work. Amazingly, over two days, 08/08/2007 to 09/08/2007, the bulk of this channeling came through. I read each skull by looking at picture of the group of Jades, not always sure of which skull was speaking. They merged clearly as a Council: a group of Beings with important information to give; yet containing individual messages from specific beings. As each new channel came out I mailed it to Linda: we were both amazed by the information that came through, and the rapidity of what turned out to be quite a lengthy channel. Over the course of two days, I had written about 18,000 words. When I stepped out of the intensity of the bulk of the channeling, I was amazed at what I had written, transcribing the words of the ancient Ones, who were so eager to share their messages with us. Much detail is given to how the skulls were carved, how jade manifested on earth, and why it is relevant to our futures as we move towards ascension and the new Earthstar.

JADE ELDERS TRANSMISSIONS

The Grand Spirits who spoke through these skulls are part of the Ascended Masters who are with us to assist us through these changing times. They have much to say. Some of these beings have remained physically incumbent in the crystalline structure of the carved skull, or in nearby mountains, since the times of their origin on Earth. The others all chose the medium of the Jade People – as they insist on being called – to communicate through. Part of the information they have to offer is an explanation of why crystalline carvings in the form of human skulls are so beneficial for storing or transmuted information.

The first Elder to address us in this transmission is Xi Wang Mu, Queen Mother of the West. She refers to a physical place where she resides, a mountain range in the west of China. She required images were placed in her transmission, allowing the reader to enter into her physical space by looking at the image of the mountain. She directed and assisted me to find pictures on the net, which suited her purposes, and you will find within her transmission the urls. You should open these links as you read her words, looking at the pictures as she speaks to you.

Whilst the Jade Council originally made themselves known to me via the images of a collection of ancient jade skulls, they have other forms. The Jade Council of Elders represents a grand oriental tradition. Included in their company are Daoist saints or Immortals, who I have communed with often during my Daoist training and experience. The information they give forthwith contains much practical information and advice for the coming times, along with historical messages from ancient eras. The Jade Council have also indicated they will return as we progress towards Ascension, with more messages to assist us on our journey.

PREFACE

I was honoured beyond expression to be able to listen to and transcribe the words of the Jade Elders. It is also my great honour to present for you here the words of the Jade Council of Elders.

Contents

I	Jade Council of Elders	1
II	Queen Mother of the West	4
III	Lord Time with Guan Yin	9
IV	Bi Xia Princess of the Azure Clouds	16
V	Jade Elders Speak	21
VI	The Old One of the Himalayas	25
VII	Jade Essence	31
VII	Spinning Maiden	36
IX	Tsiu Hei Wu	39
X	Maiden of Jade Essence	44
XI	Adena	47
XII	Earthstar	53
XIII	Three Fairies	59
XIV	Universal Space	65
XV	Universal Space 2	71
XVI	Patience	75
XVII	Jade Council	82
XVIII	August Jade Emperor	94

1

Jade Council of Elders

We are the Jade Council of Elders.

We come from long ago to your times. This Council is made of Jade Beings newly entered into by spirit, and Jade Immortals who have for a long time held their residence inside the discrete molecules of Jade.

We come to tell you of a plan we set in motion in the eternities past. We come to unite East and West, North and South, and all the cardinal points and destinations of your time. In Antiquity we have been waiting, waiting. As we jump in time we have opened our eyes to your presence.

Truly it is more distinct than we had foreseen. Truly it is more incredulous – vibrant, pulsating with Light – than we had envisaged in the “then”. Our job is general yet specific. We have specific codes and places to activate via helpers in energy centres across the globe. We also come to teach the foundation energies of the Asian cultures: to respect family, to honour one’s Elders, and to keep the memory of the Ancients firmly alive as guides and guidelines for the future.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

For some time now we have been wishing to speak to you. For some time we have been wishing you all to enter into the matrix of the golden earth. For this is what we came for, to address you on these issues. We come to reinvigorate the ancient traditions and to enter into the psyche of all human beings incarnate on earth and offer them our love and advice. We embrace all in golden light spheres. A giant ball of golden light now covers earth, surrounding her very body.

Because of the protection of the golden light, nothing can be harmed, and nothing can be hurt. Of those who play out false shadow games, their “hurt” is only their own structures playing a game. The golden light also envelops them: the golden light is infusing all directions and dimensions of the world-ball and its inhabitants.

Do not fear for those who do not choose to immerse themselves in this light. It is the nature of the human condition to exercise free will, but we assure you the days of wars and fighting are over. Yes, you will say, but they are prevalent everywhere on earth still, and Yeah, we will say: but not in our realm.

We cordially and most humbly invite you into our realms. You may see we are composed of many, like you on earth: and like you on earth who are entering the new world of Light and Love, we also have a synchronistic matrix of unity. Yes, we are one in the Golden Light, and we move into the expression of the individuals we once were in the shadow plays of what was once life on earth. We move into these expressions to afford you contact and send blessed information of these divine manifestations.

JADE COUNCIL OF ELDERS

Our first expression who would like to address you today is Beloved Queen Mother of the West.

2

Queen Mother of the West

Queen Mother of the West, Xi Wang Mu, now addresses you:

I come to you today from the rarefied atmosphere of the Kunlun Mountains, where part of my expression resides and maintains functional reality. My expression maintains this functionality for two important reasons:

to be accessible to those of you who pray to my image, and thus assist in all of your transformations as you enter into the Golden Light of Home.

to maintain the frequencies and proper functionalities of the Earth Ball in its current manifestation

QUEEN MOTHER OF THE WEST

Part of my expression is also active in what you are calling “the new earth star”. I also maintain a functioning modality there, immersed in the Golden Temple that is being maintained as a place to return Home. I will impart more information on that later. For now I invite all of those who resonate with the Great Deity of the Queen Mother of the West to enter into my loving embrace and spaces. To do so I imp-peach thee:

Enter into the great snowy path, which spirals up the magnificent KunLun Mountains.

Forthwith are images to assist you with this:

1. starting here:

<http://www.mountain.ru/expeditions/2004/kongur/img/3/Niz.jpeg>

2. Up the spiral path:

<http://www.mountain.ru/expeditions/2004/kongur/img/3/Shamal.jpeg>

3.

Focus your eyes and spirit in the clouds above the mountain in this picture http://www.mountain.ru/eng/climb/2005/kongur/img/ph_1_all.jpg

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Enter now into the dimensional matrix of my true self and form.

For I am of these mountains in the same manner as you are of your own blood.

We ask you not to engage your thinking brain, yet feel with your heart this truth.

4

People have always mistaken us for merely a historical personage and human reality... a human being who ascended to the blue heavens...and indeed, thus we are.... Humans have mistaken me and others like me for only this once-in human-form entity. Indeed we took on human form... we chose to do so to enter the reality of earth. In this next picture I ask you to enter into my true form and see me as I am: we are creatrix who formed the spirit of the body and bones of this earth we call home.

Yes, through our essence we created this earth. We laid down our luminous spirit and imagined our desires.

Lo! Manifest in this dimension the physical magnificence of our own true form:

http://www.mountain.ru/eng/climb/2005/kongur/img/ph_4_prof_rt2.jpg

See the body of my oriental image form from above the peak and down thru the center of the mountain. Observe the ball of golden light radiating from the sky just above the peak. Feel the essence of the Old One Tai Sheng Lao Zi form there and impart his wisdom.

QUEEN MOTHER OF THE WEST

Acknowledge Lao Zi as the Wise and True Teacher from the first dimensional space-form.

5

Now solidify your own body into this mountain.

http://www.mountain.ru/expeditions/2004/t-sh_Djuly/img/top1.jpg

You will see a cloud like a bird in front of the sacred peak:
Observe this without thought;
See with your eyes and relax all thoughts;
Enter into your own souls path through this space of ages.

It is true we reside here, the immortals of old.

We reside here in truth, as it is our earthly home and creation.

It is where we always have been and shalt remain.

*KunLun Shan, majestic peaks of grace
We shalt salute thee with our golden bodies of light.*

*Move through these mountains and you shalt enter a dimensional paradise
That exists and is as real as your world*

Yes! Do you see before you outstretched the peach from the Jade Emperors garden?

Take it, it is yours... it is yours to claim

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

*Rejoice! As you wonder and wander into the garden of immortality
Where all your most sacred wishes
Grow on the tree of delight
Along the gold path
From the cave-spirit of Kun Lun Shan*

Queen Mother of the West.

3

Lord Time with Guan Yin

The Second Essence of the Jade Council to come here today is known as the Mechanic of the Stars. He is a pre-heaven deity, an aspect of the Great Dao who has never incarnated upon earth.

His role is to trouble-shoot problems which arrive when things go askew with the stellar dynamics. To be more specific, imagine one particular star or star cluster is responsible for sending a certain vibration of light to the earth plane, which contains codes for manifesting certain realities in certain individuals or places upon earth. Should something go askew in the transmission due to the quantum realities in manifest space-time; ie a sudden and unexpected meteor shower, a faint and teensy-weensy bend in the direction of the light beam: it is this Being's role to correct this malfunction.

Now he shalt speak:

Honoured ones!

Before you I come today to tell you of my great excitement!

Finally after the Eons of Ages I will be taking bodily circumference much as you have been doing for so long!

Honoured Ones, I can't express how much I am in awe of Thee and thy workings upon this planet. The density there transfixes me whenever I venture too close to the atmospheric construction, which surrounds your beautiful home. Yes, I am as one with thee, yes, I am the same as thee, for my role has been to assist you through the ages. Now it is my great honour to be assisting you through the Shift of Ages.

You have known me by many names in the past. Many traditions hold gods and deities, people pray for their most sort after desires to the names and sounds of their own spaces and places, their own traditional nomenclature. Yet who is beyond all these names, all these deities of earth and heaven? To fulfill the requirements of their followers, there must be a process in place. It is within my being to hold Light Transformations, Light edges that give warmth to the dimensional space through which the Lightbeams travel.

I do not wish to bore you with the complex mechanics of this yet. I also must tell you how excited I am to be explaining these procedures to you who currently inhabit the earth plane and beyond! For it is true many of you there have helped me in your dreamtime, your great spirits joining in with the Light manifestation sending codes of reality which land on solid earth and are implanted into the time-specific realities of earth to manifest as form and events.

JADE ELDERS SPEAK

To return to the concept of warmth, it is the warmth in the Lightbeam that is the activating the dimensional matrix, which serves as the “etheric blueprint” - for want of a better term - for the manifest reality to construct itself. In times past it has been virtually impossible for incarnate humans to work within this light-field and change certain aspects of their manifest destiny. Only adepts of the highest skills have been able to influence destiny in this manner.

To fully understand what I am saying here you would need a treatise on the mechanics of free will and destiny and how they interacted upon the earth plane. I say, “interacted” because as you know that reality no longer exists on earth and you are truly all the masters of your own destiny. For now all I shall say there are certain key points of integration in which the incarnate human was not allowed to exercise “free will”. The points of death and birth were of course the most concrete and serious of these non-changeable events. Within this matrix of concrete life-path points, humans were allowed “free will”. Thus the concept of “fate” arose.... unchangeable destiny that humans could not influence. We tell you it was never that rigid: as I mentioned, only some certain keystone points in the lifeline that were non-negotiable.

Since the 1990s of your time however many, if not most of you have been able to go beyond this old earth dynamic.

I wish to know tell you, excitement in my heart, I will be joining you in the beautiful terrain of the goldenball of matter inside the orient star! The star of the seventh spirit is ordained to open her heart and draw in the world as you know it. There I will be manifest as an inoculation modality: birthing forms and manners of existence into your own realities. This process is an upheaval from my current aspect, yet contains much of my functionality over the long times.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

I rest now to let my brethren step forward.

Oh Blessed Goddess of the Mountains and Streams the Most Beloved Guan Yin Po Sa takes her place now to address you.

Thank you Brother Time.

I am as you know as Guan Yin, Beloveds mine of all time.

I hold you in my heart as strong as glue, for you art the winds of my time, you art my blood and my flesh, you art all I have been and all I will be, for long ago arisen I sent my Being to you, to serve and honour your choices upon earth.

Each day in many ways I come resilient to your earth, each day so many of my aspects come to listen to your pleas. My Brother, Brother Time, whom you have just met, takes my lists of pleas you have made, stamped with my golden seal of approval, and makes the arrangements for their manifest destinies. So as much as you light incense to honour my gifts, too you must honour my Brother, the expert mechanic, who makes the processes to make this all happen.

But I come not today to talk to you of these technical matters. I will leave that to my Brother, he does that so well. I come instead to tell you I too shall become more manifest in the new world creation, like my Brother is, I shall take up an inhabiting space upon the shores of creation in the Golden Temple that is welling up in the space-time fabrics, forming now in the world fabric of Alieah. This Golden Temple shalt take you further to truth and enlightenment and One.

JADE ELDERS SPEAK

Part of my Being will go with the Old Earth, to the new fabrication, which shall be the existing place for those not ready to enter the higher-vibrating realities. For in truth, how could I turn my back on them? To give me sustenance, Light and Joy, to sustain my Being which will override the new-old earth-space, part of my cloudy being shall dense and manifest in a "body" residing in the Golden Temple on the new earth. Pray that I meet you all there in the golden realms of our new home!

I remain your most devoted servant
She who hears the cries of All
Guan Yin Po Sa.

You have asked for more guidance from me for those who shall be reading these words.

Yet in truth I must say, so many of you who have called out to me assist me so much in my own functioning modalities. Yes, this is the truth! Each and every human being on earth who has ever, even so slightly, even only once, called out to me in grief for assistance, has helped me beyond measure. For I am you and you are me, in truth. As the pleas of the myriads come in, I drink within your essence to relieve your pain. With my golden whisk I transform this misery into the golden light of the gods on high. Shalt we retreat into the fabrications of our own desire? I question not the details of all of these petitions; I enter into the fabric of the soul-applicant, and let determination be made by the deepest Light of the Living Universe. It is not my Being who makes decisions on fate of each plea: the Gestalt Universe, the Great Dao, does this. I use my golden tools of power to seal requests and hand them to my Brother whose task it is to seal their manifest destiny and ensure that starlight enters the realms of the human life blueprint.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

*Beloved Goddess,
Thankyou for your explanations of the mechanics of your role. Yet I sense there are those who would like to know more about how to exist properly and navigate the winds of time as we swirl towards the new world.*

Yes, of course. But you can hear my great laughter, can you not? Followed by my great compassion. For now is not as before, even those of us here who have remained so close to earth to assist you in your prayers can no longer say with certainty how things will manifest.

Yet in my compassionate mercy I shall say that still I remain here, faithful to you, to you all, and every single request shall be dealt with my full attention. Yet please, beloveds, I ask you to assist me more in this endeavor, for it is truly no longer of your statue to continue pleading, when you now have the tools, the knowledge and the Light to manifest your own deepest desires. See it as one! Go within your deep soul to the Great Dao, the Buddha Pure Land and beyond, go deep to the Source of Light beyond Light with your ideas and desires imprinted before your third eye.

JADE ELDERS SPEAK

Rest, breathe, be one.

Listen.

Your plans to be made manifest in the reality-domain of Earth will appear to you in codes of Golden Light. Like lines of dots and dashes, rotating multidimensional hexagonal flowers of golden energy, the matrix for your manifest plan can be known at once to you. Hold this vision in your hand, hold it dear and true, and such it shall be. For it is only you who can truly manifest your own desires and will. If thee forsake thou own truth, tell me truly, how can the gods help you?

I suggest only you bathe in the Golden Light of universal qi every day and night of your Being.

Those of you who are so called are invited to attend my consciousness-expanding: each and every entity with life existent on this earth is openheartedly called to enter my luminous being and return again as One to the foundations and Source of Us: perceived now only as a faint pinprick of Light beyond the Golden Star.

<<Ceremonial 3 knocks and 3 bows >>

*She who hears the cries of All,
Guan Yin Po Sa.*

4

Bi Xia Princess of the Azure Clouds

I am the essence of the Jade Lady who comes with you to speak. I would like to introduce you to that most Benevolent of goddesses who has helped the introduction of women to their children so much. The Beloved Princess of the Azure Clouds has many more roles than that of assisting childless women, yet it is her most well-known aspect and that for which she is loved dearly by so many across the ages. Now we move back in obeisance to hear her speak:

My name is Bi Xia, and I was born in spirit from the one who was the great Tai Shan, the great Deity of the Sacred Mountain of the East. I was born as a whiff of spirit dislodged from my mothers breast and my father's gleaming eye; I use these poetic terms but in truth it was such: though we had no physical bodies then. Ah the eons of past truths!

I inhabited many physical incarnations during many unsettled times on earth. Through these I learned and grew. Each between-life time I would fly back to my father's province... the majestic and sacred Tai Shan. It is fact indeed that many of my life-forms were lifetimes around the Sacred Mountain, in the province of Shandong, East of the Mountain.

Please pay close attention to the meaning of the term: it is easy with our busy ears to hear familiar words and not understand them with the totality of our beings. East of the Mountain meant the lands were under the jurisprudence of Tai Shan. The great peaceful mountain truly took the souls of the myriad ones after they had left their earthly encumbrance, filtered the souls to the Great Beyond, and held the spaces for the souls to swim back thru the tunnel to find their next place of incarnation.

JADE ELDERS SPEAK

For a while I apprenticed with my father for this role but it did not really suit my nature. It was my father in fact who first suggested I help the Most Benevolent Guan Yin in her role as Guan Yin Songzi who held the babies in her magic arm and listened to the cries of the childless women. I found this role suited my nature so much, and after apprenticing in spirit with the great Po Sa I incarnated into a role where I could train as a Daoist nun and thus ascend to the heavens. Upon ascension I immediately became under the auspices of Guan Yin. I am most grateful to the multitudes of mothers and grandmothers who came to worship at my altar at the base of Tai Shan.

And gratitude I have in great abundance to the priests who invoked my name in silent ritual, who danced the dance of the wu dang shan, who chanted the rites to the great Bei Dou, to them I nod my thanks. In tears I am in your hands, as without you, my soul work would be none. The belief the common people have held for me over these centuries serves only to make me work harder in my chosen role. My father is nudging at my side to now tell thee more of the other aspects of my spirit incarnate role.

My name might be a give away: Princess of the Azure Clouds. My palace exists in these ethereal realms of the Blue, I am acquainted with many of the Blue Ray masters, I name not their names as I wish not to embarrass them with this unskilled understudy. I have been in assistance in regulating the blue ray of goodness to your planet. I hesitate to speak of this. Formulating the depositions for the Blue Clouds... in fact a great arena of Blue located in the space you call the Andromeda Galaxy... has become part of my manifest role. Haaaa.. it is such a pleasure.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Containing in me this etheric hue, I beam this light towards our Earth. Yes, my direction is true, for as you remember I lived upon your planet many times. This is perhaps why they choose me and let me keep this role... for my aim is true.

I see this essence appearing in your faces when you smile with calmness, I see its lack when you are knotted with grief about your physical lives and loves, I see the essence float in the atmosphere to form background and anchor for the blue light of your world - your skies, your waters, your beautiful silks and satins, your rare flowers and the ever-present wings of the flying ones.

If but you could breathe this blue as I do.... and breathe all hues and realms of the Bi ... the Azure... the aquas and the jades, the lily-flowers of the ancients, the sapphires on your rings and the golden topazes of love...

Yes, if you could only breathe in this essence, you would find you no longer long for all you long for. Your soul will be enveloped in the calmness of your true Being, and peace and tranquility shall rule your life. Indeed it was this blue - this blue essence, which was the original glorious nature of our planet. This place earth was created in the imagination reflection of the blue realm. You think of it: in the beginning times... skies and seas of blue.... Where do you think your word “blueprint” came from? BLUE-print...

JADE ELDERS SPEAK

I will give you some advice; a tip maybe, is it called: yes, here; center your being by whatever modalities you use

Yes, that’s it, centred in your body. Now, out, center to your solar system... your galaxy... yes, that is better.

Now, TURN

Yes TURN

And watch the spiral unravel.

Yes, it is a miracle isn’t it?

Now do this again and as you turn,
Think/feel/imagine BLUE

Take the image of what you see into your heart and travel with it.

You may see it as you like, but indeed it is an egg-shaped pearl, unwrapping as a flower.

Immerse yourself in this magic flower and you may travel to the center of the galactic blueness....

This wave is to protect you from all illness, all accidental damages, stay firm in this blueness, step out at all times with its constructs in your heart and auras.

And all unnecessary accidents shall be prevented.

The Blue Light of Majestic Grace is upon you for all times.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Step into its benefactory vibrations, drink of its divine hue, and thou shalt be welcomed to the crystalline realms of my true home, located well beyond the North Star.

I am Bi Xia, Princess of the Azure Clouds, daughter of the Great Tai Shan, and I salute you. I invite you henceforth into my realms as I too transform and move on in this great galactic movement of space-time. For those of you so inclined, relax, float, sink into my ever-present azure dreams, join with me as part of me continues to guide you as you take over my role to guide the childless, bless their pain with great grace, and make the movements and the searches to join those beloveds with their real and true children, beyond time and space, and in their manifest destiny.

Ah-Lo! It is time! Let the transformations begin! Let the soldiers of women and the hearts of mothers and daughters and sons embrace my azure body and take station in the new-old world, to oversee the karma of the grieving childless.

Da Xing Bei Dou Qi Xing Guan.

Bi Xia.

5

Jade Elders Speak

Forming a community unlike before our energies have melded and merged into a power grouping of Jade Essence. We wish to explain to you the nature and meaning of Jade Essence before we precede any further. After that we will introduce you to the Ancient Himalayan One... he is an elder of sorts amongst us.

Jade Essence as you know has been part of traditional Chinese culture for a long long time. We buried our dead with Jade beside them, we decorated our arms - women and men - with bracelets of Jade, we named our children after this most precious of minerals, and we treasure it more than gold. Jade is not of this world. It is, and it is not. The most precious of Jades has an otherworldly quality to them, and the coarsest Jade still provides spirit protection. So what is it in this Jade, which is so intriguing and precious to us?

It is simply that Jade is of this world and not of it.

Jade can be found in the hills and valleys of this world, it is found as a “mineral” in the ground, yet it is not a mineral in the true sense of the word. IT IS A CREATED ESSENCE THAT WAS MADE BY EARTH MINERALS BEING INFUSED BY A GREAT STAR BEING IN THE CREATIONAL PERIOD OF EARTH.

This was known by the ancient Chinese kings, but it soon became a forgotten secret. Ancient alchemical texts discuss the purity of jades and even have recipes for base mineral mixed with starlight and other secret ingredients for the initial production of Jade. Believe us, it cannot be “made” now: nor could it be even in the ancient times of recorded history. Its creation was time-specific, a product of the swirling gaseous energy around when earth was first formed, and the vacuum which was around a certain centrifugal point in earth’s atmosphere way back in the thence. This centrifugal funnel allowed for the immersion and spirit insertion of intent by a very special, ancient, powerful energy source pertaining to the pre-heaven gods.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

This divine being wished to offer a grand protection to all who would come afterwards in this planet. Later some of the essence of this Grand Being was to incarnate as the one known as Fu Xi. But that is not our point right now, ours is no history lesson. We wish simply to tell you:

Everyone should have some Jade.

We smile to say that: it sounds like a dietary requirement! In a way it is: a diet for the new earth.

Jade offers such a level of protection that it is almost essential those carrying through to the new world should wear jade on their bodies. To wear Jade during that difficult transformational time when you will be reduced to naked atoms and asked to reconstruct yourself on whim, amongst the great confusion of the Great Fire times.... Jade will make the transition that much easier.

In fact, this is one of the reasons it was seeded upon earth in the first place. The ancients knew it for its grand assistance when spirit departed from physical function: but they knew not this was just a dress rehearsal for the real play, which will unfold as

JADE ELDERS SPEAK

Terra unleashes herself from Sol, the Tai Yang, and moves to a new Star.

We want to tell you more about Jade. It is true for the moment; the most exalted place to find Jade is on your Earth. True! It is of earthly nature. Certainly it was formed by divine intervention... as opposed to the natural earthly order of things manifest and become apparent after eons of transformation. Yet it was made on Earth and IS OF Earth. Some special crystals have other stellar origins, and were brought with those who came as star seeds in the dawn of time, but not so our jade. It is akin in some ways to Opal, which was also intentionally created by a Creator Being in the dawn of time. Opal shall become more apparent and more important in the future, so we shall leave her story till then.

Now, as we were saying, Jade manifested on Earth and as Time proceeded on Earth and it came to the Time when kingly reign fell forth upon Earth, the ancients promised themselves to keep pure what in the west you referred to as the "Divine right" of kings and we in the east referred to as the "mandate of heaven". Part of the procedure for this was trial by Jade. Each emperor was to choose a Jade Maiden for whom the purity of his realm was foretold. The Jade Maiden was required to wear Jade, only Jade.

When the pure mineral started to show signs of deterioration, something that should not happen naturally, it was known that the reign of this emperor was tainted and in decline. Some superfluous beings took it upon themselves then to murder the maiden and choose a new one for the position: but Jade never lies and in one case the new Jade Maiden became so sick and her Jade bracelet blackened within the space of one day. You won't read this in the history books, so don't even try!!!! This was a secret known only to those most close to the emperors - his immediate family - and was practiced up until the dynasties preceding the Tang.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

We have spoken for some time. Now we would like to step back, reminding you as we do of the importance of wearing jade everyday. Wear it now, but especially wear Jade in the preparation period for the great Earth Change.

We step back to introduce you to the Old One from the Himalayas.

6

The Old One of the Himalayas

The Himalayan One is old beyond accounting and finds it hard to keep the frequencies of this dimension for communication. With deep breath and serious intent he manifests in a seconds grace to come to Council on this day of days. He comes to speak of the vibrational reality you speak of in this dimensional matrix as a “Stargate”. He tells us that yes it is this, but it is also so much more.

The linear lineup of stars in space to earth could be seen to be functioning in alignment as a “gate” or “portal” of energies. We know you understand this to involve many dimensions, yet from our “far away” perspective, we view this as simply linear. In actual fact the whole instrument is much more complex. Yes, it sings to us in tones and lullabies. Awake, awake, we must stay, to ride the waves of its fascination.

Surrounding the stars you have in mind, the “lions gate” in Orion, is a pulsating disc. From your earth perspective, you would see it as this. From our perspective, it is a tunnel. This tunnel is coated in thick golden light and scrumbily matter and leads directly to our home in the golden realms.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Now the reason this tunnel seems like a pulsating disc, is that you see “its opening” like you might see a saucer spinning on a table. You see only the saucer that someone has set into spinning motion and those of you with quick sight can see around the saucer a blur of movement. If you added saucer upon saucer and commenced each spin a millisecond after the previous one you would get spin upon spin creating a flower-like wave of spiralling patterns.

Now! It is thus you see the saucers, but we say to you the saucers don't exist! It is only your perception that sees them as you are used to concrete objects. Actually each “saucer” is but a momentary fluctuation in the energy of the golden tunnel, but your perceptions are such and in particular your positioning on the earth plane is such that you cannot perceive it as anything else but the spinning disc. You can't even see the imaginary saucers on top of the first one: we give this to you as an analogy of how the “saucer” or disc appears to pulsate... you see merely the pulsating disc, with the pulsating perception created by the energy fields of the walls of the tunnels moving in time/space and this you could only imagine as a series of saucers upon each other.

Confused? Let us pause.

We come from the dimensions so beyond your planet it is difficult for us to describe. Yes, an aspect of our Being manifested in the lands you know of now as “Tibet”: or more particularly, in the mountain range known of as Kailash, yes, this is the one.

OLD ONE OF THE HIMALAYAS

I was an ancient being in the lands of the snow, long before the current incumbents. I was not “Tibetan” for this word is a new one and this culture was still in its infancy. I was simply “Himalayan” for I belonged to and lived in this great snowy mountain. Far I lived from human company and few were the times I sought out people. I grew up with my mother in a small village near the foot of the mountain, and once old enough I left, to climb it and never return. Inside a cave I lived, freezing and starving until such a time I was frozen into the white heat of the mountain and I merged with her magnificent being. From that time on my human metabolism slowed and I lived a long long time.

I developed a long white beard and in the generation fourth removed from my mothers I started to be seen briefly, as I came down the mountains on rare occasions. And so it became that I became somewhat of an oracle or healer for the local people. I did this only at the mountain’s request for long had I lost the taste for human company.

More generations passed and some claim my spirit flew out and landed again in one less old than me, whose previous soul acquiesced to my request in exchange for my solemn promise to assist him in the nether worlds; but I myself make no such claim and do not understand why people could not believe I had one long eternal life. Anyhow, I will never admit to the truth of the rumours.

Well, I have rambled on but you will understand I am an old old man unused to this human society. Yet I have come again, I have come again.

For such was my promise to the mountain. When I finally left her it was to enter a new paradise, and there I have remained till now. Even there I have become rather a solitary figure, pursuing my own ends rather than the more or less compulsory merging of awareness. You see for me, my mountain was my great beloved and from afar I have remained to worship her. From my holy land I fly through the tunnel to sweep around her feet, to enter into her entrails and explore her internal body.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

My promise to the mountain was this: in the changing times I would return, to sing her praises.

So as you see my time here spent addressing you is probably a waste of your time when you could have better things to do. Yet to keep my promise I must explain to you the workings of my beloved mountain.

She is more than she appears, as all mountains are. But this one is special amongst the special ones. She speaks not the language of rock or stone; she does not talk the language of the Stars.

Instead she speaks that rare language which bypasses the Stars and all of the constellations: ah yes, no “stargates” for her. Instead she goes immediately to the center of atomic construction. To enter into her consciousness is to enter into the wild spinning game of electrons. Within her atomic grace you may emerge at any time and space you like, providing you know how to fixate on your destination!

Laughing... a few priests over the years tried to time-travel through her... most of them ended up as carcasses for the vultures atop her splendiferous peaks.

So now you know her secret. She is called both crystal and the gem of the snows; she transforms ice heat into internal longing and fire; she catalyzes your sorrows into the no-dimension until all wants shalt leave your awareness and you meld with the great

OLD ONE OF THE HIMALAYAS

Oneness inside an atom. Should you know how to set the controls you may return to whence you came: I tell you she is no mountain to play with.

Now again I am reminded of the whys and wherefores in which I came to address you today. You can see by now I am more accustomed to the air here, and am held here by the power of your rapt attention. I will honestly say I am grateful for that; it is a long time since I have had company.

Now: for the ground rules:

Those who can enter the mountains consciousness from afar are required to do so, to regulate her peaks.... her energy levels. In the changing times to come, her incarnate purpose is to Regulate the functioning of atomic reintergration.

This is to say that all her long life built up as a mountain of snow is for the one purpose: her direct energies will direct you and help the very atoms of your body stay cohesive and remeld, rejoin, reband and reconnect after you reach, with Gaia, your new destination. She will of course pay greatly for this; she will lose her life and will not be manifest in the new world. Can you imagine the dedication of a Being such as this? All her millennium-long life is all but to give you energy and direction as Earth goes thru her foretold change. She holds the frequencies so you may re-emerge, solid and functioning, in the new earth.

I insist from the weight of my position as the old Himalayan One that you commence worship of this mountain right now, for it is She who has given up Her existence for You as you are clinging tightly to ground zero as you move with Gaia to your new star. For us... for me at least... I retire now.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Oh yes, the skull, you were wondering about that. I carved this in the ancient times to hold the energy matrix that I may enter to come and talk to you now. As simple as that. Without it I could not reenter such a density. I will come again, as the times draw closer, with more technical details you might like to know of. In the meantime, I reiterate the advice of my brethren in council: get yourself some jade, and wear it.

In your Service.

The Old One of the Himalayas.

Jade Essence

My name is Jade Essence.

Although I am sculptured out of other material, with only partial traces of jade within me, such is my name and function.

I was not originally sculptured for this reason, yet this is how I have become now. I did exist as a human persona throughout various timelines on Earth, yet that matters not here to my purpose.

I am the essence of jade. I have entered into this crystalline being to further my work on Earth.

For we are constructing a Jade Mountain! Yes! So exciting, isn't it? Can you imagine it? No you cannot. I barely can picture it myself! Yet it is true, a whole mountain made of Jade, it will appear as the lovely hue of light luminescent green; Jade Green.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

It is not as you think of mountains, craggy things with trees growing in them; rather it is like a giant crystal hill! Yes, for its whole structure is crystalline!

The new earth – or rather the current beautiful planet undergone change and transformation, and spirited thru Stargates to a new Sun – can contain the vibrations of such crystalline grace. We are making it as a monument: a monument to all that jade is and has been, to the Oriental race. Jade has provided us with such service we couldn't begin to explain: the task would be so mammoth.

I willingly undertook the role of Maiden of the Jade Energies, and underwent training in an Andromedan school. This training enabled me to fully merge my consciousness into the structure of Jade! I cannot describe how beautiful it is! The internal molecular structure is like nothing you have ever seen, nothing like the quartz matrix and unlike most other gem lattices.

It is very pleasant here, cool and calm. Inside the Jade Mountain, I am aware of visitors. I sense who comes near me, who wishes to speak to me, and am able to offer advice by impression. Yet it is a very gentle guidance. The structure of Jade necessitates that.

I would like to share with you about the Chinese word for jade, pronounced Yu. It is the word for "king" - pronounced "Wang" - with a slight addendum. That is because jade is indeed King of the Jewels. It has a pearlescent luminescence, an authority beyond question, and a magic character known only to those who study it deeply. Jade has many colours, of the best known is the light green shade known in your language as Jade Green. There is also a pure white, that most rare and radiant of jade; white – which has a tinge of violet or lavender – and purple jade, which is really lavender – a deep lavender in colour. All of the colours of jade have special resonance and power: pure white jade was for the royal class, in the ancient times when kings were kings and really did rule the kingdom with the people at heart. It is an intense, spiritual nature, and nowadays is sort out by those in need of intense spiritual protection and enlightenment. Purple Jade can assist those going into deep meditative states. It is also intensely healing: but beware: it may work too fast if it is a good piece and bring up lots of buried emotions and fears. Be prepared for this if you work with it. Some of the lesser pieces only do surface work. The deeper shades of purple jade also have the ability to teleport you to the Purple Tzu Star.

JADE ESSENCE

Now I have spent some time talking about the types of jade, but I wish to return to my main theme, which is the present construction of Jade and the pieces you will need, and how to implement them, in the days of leading to the New World.

You should seek out older jade. It should be of an undisturbed vibration: that is to say it should have naturally arisen from Earth. The more ancient the jade, the more natural was its retrieval process. Many modern pieces hold a disturbed vibration, as they were yanked out of the ground forcibly.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Carefully choose its markings. It may be unmarked or have simple engravings. Avoid jade with too elaborate carvings, for the essence of Jade will have been disturbed too much as the pieces was made. The ancient Jades up to and including the Ming (Dynasty) have etched symbols of meanings.

If you should be blessed with an ancient-up-to-Ming Jade, then choose the symbol that makes your heart sing. Disguised as Chinese Characters, the etching or carving often carried an esoteric carving underneath. For example, an ancient esoteric symbol, requiring a few strokes, was etched first into the Jade.

We call this the first bloodline.

After some time – full moon to full moon usually – the secondary carving was etched. Characters were chosen for their ability to blend in with the first symbol, so no override was needed. It was a perfect disguise that no-one knew about.

How do I know this? I was there. I did many of those carvings. In the ancient times I was male, a Jade-Carver of renown. My name is not important, but I had visited the place of Jade origin. All there is further to say on the carved symbols is they often attuned to stellar locations – you would call them Stargates, but they are not gates at all!

Now, once you have your Jade piece, preferably a necklet or bracelet that you may daily wear, you should consecrate it in the Altar of your choice. Guan Yin is a favoured and beneficial deity for attuning jade. Leave it in her Altar for 3 days, wash it with pure spring water, and then drink the water. Thus you have the manifest destiny of your jade piece in your very cells!

JADE ESSENCE

All else is simple after that, and I need not give further instructions. Nonetheless, since modern day people are unfamiliar with these things, I will continue with the basics. The full moon is essential for bathing your Jade. Do this every Moon! No excuses! (Bathing in pure moonlight, I mean, not water). Sprinkling spring water over her is good whence you have been going through too many dense times: the spring water will clear her. Finally, at nighttime, place this piece gently on top of your third eye and dream.

Now in the last part of my transmission I will return again to the Jade Mountain. It will not be scaleable, however there will be a small cave at the bottom whereby people can enter to merge with the mountain, understand the nature of Jade, and get advice from Jade Mountain. Inside the cave is a very fine trickle of water, which builds up into a small stream. This water is very pure, very magical, and contains transformational essence. It is used only rarely under the most pure and spiritual of circumstances. It has its own modality, and is forever renewable. The source of this water comes not from this planet.

It is my pleasure to have become acquainted with you! I invite you all to visit me through the cave in Jade Mountain. I await your presence!

Maiden of the Jade Essence.

Spinning Maiden

I am the Spinning Maiden.

I visit Earth in such rare times. I come down today to speak to you of the great changes that are occurring right now. You have possibly heard of the many astrological configurations that are coming “fast and furious” right now: these alignments that bring to you straightening of your backs. Oh, yes, I mean that the energy is so strong you feel your chakras all popping and aligning and thus your back is straightened up. For surely then you are in alignment with the qi flowing from the celestial bodies, your charkas will be balanced and your backs straight.

You are aware there are floods, massive floods world wide now. This will not stop. I am sorry to advise you this will not stop. There is naught we can do about this, Gaia is spinning and weaving in her own dimension. Think of the floods of your own heart. Think how you cry tears of rain for the irresolvable, for the grand mistakes or your own making, for the tragedies of your beloveds...

Thus is Gaia's predicament. She can but naught cry tears of blood.

We hold her in our warm embrace, and the heavens line up in sympathy with her, making a clear path for her transfusion. Yes, part of her extraordinary energies has already "ascended", or rather made an energetic pathway to her "new" location. It is this where I, Spinning Maiden, in my stellar house of Vega, have created a channel for her movement, as she is indeed my dear spirit Sister. Long have I felt for her as she choose the movement of Planetary Logos in this system of yours circling Ra. Sigh... we cannot change the bygones. But I beseech of thee to be one with Gaia and make her passing easier. The floods will continue and souls will linger in the hallways, making up their minds to stay or go forever. Such is Gaia's pull. Wherever she goes she has always made a great loyalty amongst her followers.

As you know my magpie path opens but once, the 7th of the 7th, (on the lunar calendar). The pathway is open in the luminescent sky and I am holding this bridge open not as the tales tell to see my lover - though of cause great galactic communication is just as important to us as it is to you - but so my dear sister Gaia may shed some of her burdens and consolidate her travels through this bridge.

I too stand on Jade footsteps. The precious mineral allows my being to exist. It is so much more than you can think of. I am breathing my whispering presence to you here now, to let you know I have not forgotten you, my brethren upon Earth, I reach out to you with a golden chalice and ask you to follow my path in your dreams:

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Here you will see that I am constructing the golden pathway for your spirit to tiptoe on as you traverse the heavens on your way to your planet's new residence. Oh yes, many of us are holding the energies for this transformation. My stellar partner and I will merge with a glorious show of Light: nebulas and fireworks galore: in the days preceding Gaia's travel in the transformation times.

Recall this now and rejoice: know that the spirals of Light that will reach you are naught to be afraid of: that the Bright fiery lights that will show in the sky in the day are from us only, from our love exploding, and this is our sign to you to ready all you have and all you are for the greatest journey of your life.

I am the Spinning Maiden and my Galactic partner the Oxboy and I greet you in love and recognition. We are indeed closely related as my beloved Sister Gaia is One with You and I am One with Her: we are as close as Siamese twins in the womb, You, Earthdweller, and Me, the star Vega in the night-sky.

I love you.

The Spinning Maiden.

9

Tsiu Hei Wu

Can you see my eye-sockets where their used to be jade?

Jade circlets of immense proportion - that is to say of immense spiritual proportion - were placed in my eye-sockets, in ritual observance. The circlets themselves were very clearly and ritually prepared.

Cut and carved by master craftsmen who must abstain from all flesh and sexual interaction (for these activities would only cause soul confusion), and participate in rites in the temple, knocking and bowing each morning, evening and night: thus the craftsmen was cleansed and prepared for carving of the magic discs.

The jade discs so prepared were presented to the king and the high priests who made forth with the rituals. Some of these rites were carried out in the temple of heaven during the Ming: but these were a much watered down version of the full rites which had been carried out in the southern capital (Nanjing) and also in the whereabouts of Hangzhou in the Song. Let me get on with the purpose of my transmission.

You can see where the Jade Circlets used to be placed, can you not? Notice how far away my eyes are from each other, in this skull carving. You should be able to draw conclusions yourself from that. Yes, of course, this carving was made not to represent a human but to assist in the soul-travel of the priests and powers of worship. The bridge between the nose represented the bridge of the heavens, and the eyes, such a distance was calculated by the alchemists who made the jade circlets.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

YES: THE CIRCLETS WERE MADE FIRST and this skull-piece only secondary: its purpose was to fit the circlets into and to approximate the electricity in the human skull. The jade circlets themselves were most difficult for humans to enter into their the energy field. Yet placed in the shape of a skull made an energetic resonance so humans could enter the electro-magnetic field of the energy field of the two jades. Like positive and negative electric poles the two jade circlets created a field of energy extremely powerful. The measurements of their placement had to be experimented with and consequently the skull was carved as piece to hold the jade.

I am really a very ancient priest. I was a shaman in the beginning times and worked with royalty in the Han. I apprenticed to the man who was directly working with the king: his personal private astrologer, was my master. I learnt well and returned to practice my trade in the Song and the Ming. It was in the Ming that I ascended to heaven where I have remained overseeing the rites, which were once practiced on earth: this is to say the energy frequency that stabilizes and normalizes harvests and the weather. This is not to say I have any direct control or responsibility with the weather: far from it, I am no Water-Lord, however within the existent weather patterns I maintain the function which allows for the crops to reach maximum harvest.

As you can imagine my job is becoming nearly redundant now! I can fine-tune the areas to which rain falls; I can regulate the qi within fields of wheat or rice, yet I cannot determine the overall amount of rain.

This of course is by the by, however relevant only in passing to this great council of Jade. I am making appearance here for my ability to single-handedly focus on the task at hand. Now you see the Council has gathered us all here - or rather We the Council are gathered here - for a multifold purpose. Firstly, we wish you all upon Earth to know more about us and our function, how we off-planet ascended ones are continuously watching over you and being with you. Creating this awareness however is only a very preliminary measure.

We have work to do together, you see, you blessed ones on Earth, with us, the Jade Council of Conglomerates of the Aethers. You see long have your priests forgotten how to regulate the weather. They have forgotten how to be at one with the rain-clouds, how to blend their bodies with the dry earth and pinpoint which area in particular needs rain... they have forgotten how to lay their bodies upon earth and make themselves one with the ground. Moreover, they have forgotten how to work the sacred leylines and create the spirals for the life-force of Earth. For is not that the sacred role of the Shaman priest, to dance the life-force of Terra and connect her in her natural rhythm to the stars and beyond?

And so it is, dear beloveds of our land, that we have come to beseech thee to help us again in this. We come to ask you to tread purposefully on your land.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

*We have come to ask you to dance up the earth spirits,
To bless the rain gods,
To sing with the stars
And to renew the harvests with food for all.*

A simple matter, really, it is only one of training. Some of our underlings will incarnate slowly, so they may begin the training of the new Earth Priests who shall come to pass to recreate the new dance. For now, I, Tsiu Hei Wu, Priest of the Ancients, am honoured to be offering you some instructions.

Remember the Altar to the Moon and the Altar to the Sun? This is unequivocally the first step in preparing proper ritual preparation for the harmony of earth. Please, do not be frightened of the term "ritual". It is really as natural as breathing and you are all very capable of it. And it is indeed a grand necessity now, for you will find without proper respect of the natural ties between earth, sun, moon and stars you will cease to breathe. Ho!

*In your own space you may create your own altar.
Allow the sun god Ra to bless your space every day.
In the mornings, bow to the East three times.
In the evenings, bow to the west. Yes, three times again, of course.*

It is that simple. Such is the rite to the Sun carried out. Should many of you do this, a ray of such beauty between your sun and you shall emerge in splendour and new colours of the rainbow shalt become visible in your now time upon earth.

*The Altar to the Moon should be placed opposite the Sun Altar in your living or praying quarters.
The Altar of the Moon requires three cups, three small cuplets of pure water offering. This should be replaced* each day, in the morning preferably. You may drink the previous days water.

On new moons, abstain from meat. On full moons, abstain from meat. On full moons gift your moon altar with oranges, mooncakes, and sweet things of round fullness.

On full moons bow three times to the Moon Altar.

Outside under the full moon, where you may take your Altar if your living arrangements so allow, offer up the water to the moon (the three cups from your altar) ask for sufficient harvest and food for all of earth's inhabitants and spill the water on the ground, preferably on food plants if you have them. No, "dead" plants or vegetables unearthed from their roots will not do. It must be food plants in the ground on which you spill your water. If you have no food plants, find a fertile green spot.

And thus are my first instructions for aligning the body of earth, the body of yourself, with the planetary and solar lunar entities. Of course, as we go on in this course, it becomes much more complicated. I shall leave this discourse now. I have brethren who wish to speak.

Tsiu Hei Wu, Priest of the Ancients.

10

Maiden of Jade Essence

The Maiden of Jade Essence addresses you again.

As you can see our Brother Tsiu has presented you with details of the old ways. Yet now our purpose is with the new. As the Being inhabiting the role of the Essence of Jade, I wish to explain to you why the Council has recruited so many of the Ancient Masters. These Ancient Ones have long been in service in the heavens and it is many a cycle of time since they have been incumbent upon Earth in human form. Consequently, many of these Ancient Ones talk the language of long ago, and are not familiar with today's modern formalities and politenesses. They are also unfamiliar with addressing a grand audience. During their last incarnations... and I refer specifically to Brother Tsiu here... he held a post which by its very nature required a lot of secrecy. This is why in the beginning, he is talking in very basic terms about the ritual relationships between Earth and Sky.

ADENA

Please understand that as this great spirit engages once again in human intercourse, he of necessity reverts to the persona he last had upon earth, which was some time ago when things were much different. Know that as time goes on and he is more comfortable in this role he will pass on greater technical information. For the moment it is my pleasure to discuss more on the nature of Jade with you.

Jade, as I mentioned before, is not of this Earth. It was seeded into Earth as part of the generative function of Earth herself, during a time in the distant past when earth suffered a lot of malfunctions. There was a time.... and no, I am talking pre-atlantean here.... the far far distant past... when due to external influence of a rather unsavory nature, beloved Earth lost much of her own regenerative nature. In short, in this time Earth herself “lost her spin” and entered into rapid confusion.

Rains came at the wrong times or didn't come at all, compasses lost their direction (there were no compasses as we know them then, but I refer to the natural compasses the ancients constructed out of bone and silver) dogs howled continuously and the birthrate of mammals halted. T'was then that Jade came from literally out of this Universe. We rained her substance down into selected parts of Earth to install in Earth again her regenerative capacity.

It worked. The malcaltrants from interstellar sources left, and Earth slowly became “herself” again. It was as the tropical forests rebirthed that the time came which came to be known as “the garden of Eden”. Actually, it was Aden who was in the heavens assisting us in the raining of Jade. It was his very own Jade that rained down... but this is much too complicated to explain to you so we shall leave it in this fairy-tale format. What I have still to tell you is reasonably straightforward.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

The ancients, in many cultures, recognized jade for the spiritual majesty she was, and used her in many of their burial practices. That was excellent practice for those times. As you might imagine, these times now are radically different.

The ascension of spirit is happening to many without physical death. Consequently, as the ancients used jade to assist their spirit pass over to other realms, so too it is extremely helpful in these times - if not essential! For you too can use Jade. Quality jade placed on the body will assist you immensely in the upgradings, rewirings, and genuine reconstruction of your charkas, dantiens, forcefields, auras and indeed your very physical being. It is particularly helpful in keeping your spine in correct positioning which of course then also assists in activating the charkas. The nadis are also influenced greatly by jade, with the wearing of jade necklets allowing the nadis to shine fully golden. I will return again later with more of the practicalities and the Star associations of Jade.

Jade Essence.

11

Adena

My name is Adena.

My soul essence has had lifetimes upon Earth in Lemuria, China, and Turtle Island amongst others. I reside in multidimensional forms; most of the consciousness of my great spirit is existent in the golden realms, whilst a solid part of my consciousness manifests in the stellar cornerstone of your universe. I address you today on Stellar Mechanics, and how to incorporate your awareness of the Stars in your daily reality.

Today, it is true; there is much information available now about specific stars and their influence that emanates upon your Earth. You now are able to access Star elixirs, crystals which align to certain stars, and indeed the great archangels come down to you through various channels to instruct you on these matters. It is not my intention to comment on these, all great gifts to humanity, but rather add to this with my own thoughts and knowledge.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

The beneficiaries of stellar influence are far beyond the modalities of what you term astrology. Although this science has much to offer in all its various cultural manifestation, the true influence of the Stars functions at a much deeper level than this.

Indeed, one could even say it functions at a CELLULAR LEVEL.

It would take a discussion in quantum mechanics to explain this properly to you, but suffice to say within the very structure of your cells is a module which is activated and perpetuated by Starlight. Yes, it is so! Your scientists are on the verge of discovering part of this truth. Now if the Starlight is to fully activate the cells in your body you would become a truly luminous being. Believe it or not, much of the common sicknesses of humankind today are caused by the lack of access to direct starlight upon your bones. When these miniscule quanta of light packages arrive and manifest in invisible patterns around your physical body, they first integrate into your aura, cleansing and adjusting the aura to purity. Once that job is done, then, in their fully functioning modality... they enter directly to the cells of your physical body, the deep matrix of cells, which forms the blueprint, or underlying matrix of each organ and essential part of the body.

Needless to say this fully functioning aspect of starlight has not been evidenced in humankind for eons. Humans long ago, in Neanderthal times, knew how to activate starlight. (Strictly speaking it was earlier than that but we are not going into a discourse of prehistory here and the term suffices to give you a concept of just how long human bones have not been functioning properly.) In these ancient times the starlight activated the human cranium and was enough to cause visions and cosmic attunements. Humans long since entered the density fields where the high vibrational rate of starlight, whilst entering into your arenas, was enough only to twinkle the aura and nowhere near properly fix and calibrate, much less enter properly and wholly into the cells.

Since those long ago times of course humanity has been fixed by more density, and humankind has all kinds of artificial lights and pollutions to prevent the pure starlight reaching us. Referring again to the exacting science of “astrology” - although we suggest a new term be coined as this one has so much old baggage associated with it - from our uniquely Chinese perspective – a perspective that is echoed in the Hindu or Vedic school - the constellations are existent in the lunar mansions. This alone points to a key concept regarding how the influence of the stars is regulated by the moon.

It is through the reflection of and aspect to the Moon that determines how the rays of Starlight fall into your etheric bodies.

We suggest the three major constellations or star-groupings to focus your attention upon are:

Dipperstars (the big dipper), Orion, and the Sirius stars.

Other stars and star systems are supporting these ones in a regulatory pattern. The view from where we stand is of course different from yours: we are looking down on a patterned universe, and you from a position below it, you are looking up at certain sky formations as they pass over.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

But we tell you without any doubt that the Big Dipper plays an important part in regulating universal qi. It captures energy from outside of this Universe, which is still entering via the Lyran gate and transforms it into energy that is tangible and digestible in this Universe. The Big Dipper breaks down the extra-Universal Light into components that make up or construct this Universe, and through the complex dynamic of its integral structure sends out Light to other stellar bodies.

We tell you that one Star in the this constellation is receding, and so another star is moving very slightly in the direction of Earth to compensate and balance the energies, maintaining the basket which is the bowl of the Dipper in respect to Earth. The movements of both these bodies create a larger basket... a larger loop in which to catch qi and maintain the transformative features of this energy-mechanism for this Universal sub-grid.

Orion – or rather the jewels of Orion – is very particular now in attracting its starlight to the very key places upon earth. Orion has established a number of triangulated points on earth that pattern up to the jewels. The triangles or pyramids thus formed overlap each other, and it is in this overlapping that a wave –frequency is created. From this Earth herself is sending out signals, and creating the space-tunnel in which certain preliminary matrixes develop an oscillating pattern in which she rides the waves of time and space into her next ascending position.

I have spoken to you of the roles of the Dipperstars and of Orion, now I which to address briefly the role of Sirius, and also the Pleiades, which has been overlooked considerably in this discussion. Pleiades constellation is like a little sister to the Dip-pers, yet within it contains many sparkling stars each of whom contribute mammoth generosity to the universe. Pleiades is now playing general assistant to all the players in this dynamic. Each of the Stars in Pleiades has agreed to serve as a backup to the major stars/constellations, which form what you term Stargates in Earths' ascension. That is to say each star will calibrate and recalibrate, and thus serve as an anchor matrix and safeguard, to the other stars that form the Primary Stargate.

This service is extraordinary as it ensures the absoluteness of the safe continuity of this Universal game-plan. As you can imagine, this Universe is made up of myriad, countless beyond infinite expressions of being, so this volunteered backup service of the Pleiadian Starnation is infinitely held in great gratitude by us. Due to the nature of their backup and safeguarding roles, dear Pleiades-Stars are often consequently overlooked in the discussion of ascension.

Returning to Sirius, she is lighting the way for Terra. Earth has been playing "catch-up" with her for Light years. Sirius has already made a "trial run" of your ascension path. Truthfully, she did it eons upon untold eons ago in your count, but that is by the by for in our timezone this path of Sirius actually sits right beside your current reality. This is due to what is called a time-loop in your realities but is actually a function of our dimension.

This ends my first disposition on Stellar Mechanics. My name is Adena, and I reside in Bei Dou.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

You may call upon me if you need any assistance in navigating the Stars.

12

Earthstar

I am Earthstar.

I have had many names in the past. Indeed, I am a conglomerate reality, made of the many who have formed this one body of ethers and conjectured around your present realities. If at first I seem obtuse it is because I am unused to conversing in this manner. Please forgive my mistakes of speech and my incorrect pronunciation. My language is rusty as my member beings all hail from different places, different lives, and differing linguistic backgrounds. Indeed amongst me is Spirit who has yet to experience the fabled pleasures of Earth.

So you can see now whilst the Jade Council is functioning smoothly as an entity, for myself I am not so well integrated. The various parts of me – the manifest souls who willed to enter my consciousness and become part of me and my work all have specific tasks to attend to. So truly, whilst I now address you from my Primordial Reality, there are now many aspects to my vast being. I acknowledge them all in wonder and joy for through them I have grown in size, experience, and understanding.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

I enter many forms. I speak through the form of the crystal skull, as that is what calls me now, although I cannot say I “live” there nor function in that reality. The structures of the crystallized skull are simply a mouthpiece for my energy to flow through.

Indeed: I Am YOU!!!

Yes! All of you are participating so nicely in the construction of earthstar and thus you have already become one with my consciousness! So I’m talking to myself, really, ha! I see some of you are unaccustomed to Beings such as us having such a sense of humour, and I say only this to you: you’d better get used to it! Ha! Laughter runs thru the cosmos like god’s own brother! Sister, I suppose I am supposed to say now too! I would like you to enter my functional reality, for just a moment.

Yes, that’s it, breath in its spaciousness.

Is not this earthstar so full of blessed space?

Is not everywhere so splendid in its imaginings?

Thank yourselves for this, as from your own hearts and desires we drew the breath of our planet-star.

So many of you holding one dream, acbracadara!

Thus it becomes! You like the sea: here it is. Big waves, with a full moon reflecting: done. Two moons?

Oh why not, here they are. Ah, it makes me smile to talk to you. What good is it to construct a new planet-star and have no-one to appreciate it? Thank-you for coming, thank-you for listening today. I see you have uncovered some of my identity. Yes, I AM or much of my gestalt lighted spiralling wholeness IS the elf one Altariel. Yes, it is he who as you know has been so busy harnessing the greenery of old earth,

JADE COUNCIL

rephrasing the codes and inserting it into the cell-loves, the coded granix, of new earth star. What a name!

Some have touted many new names for Gaia. In her transformation she has become totally anew, vibrant with the pure living light of creation and she is as never before imagined. The beaches of pure shimmering beauty, the sea a warm wave of welcome, and the crystals you have brought with you in your hearts, the mountains of gems... literally, yes, gemstones made from mountains: oh forgive my speech and my back-to-front grammar, I should say, mountains made from crystalline gems.
There, that is better. But if I simply hold this image in my awareness: there that is better isn't it! You can see it now in your hearts and you don't need me to tell you in words.

So I have dealt with oceans and mountains.
Living spaces, you ask? Some roam free on the prairies as before, as the wandering life is in their cells, deep down embedded into their DNA. Others have nice homes, marble floors and crystal palaces: yeah, these places hold millions.... Yet you would never now it was crossed. We have very carefully constructed this reality so you only see who you want to see. The dimensions are kept separate yet can merge at whim. You may live in a house with your family and beloveds, yet six or seven other groupings may live in the same/similar house, vibrating at a slightly different rate, so you never see each other.

Don't worry, we have skilled mechanics working on this and actually you would never know of the others as there is no psychic debris left behind by any of you. You may as well say you are in your own space because you are. To your new reality, the difference in these vibratory rates are the same as great distances upon your prairies... even though the actual difference in mathematical terms of the wavelengths is what you would now term “marginal”, in your new lives you are totally immersed in your particular vibration.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

You merge fully with all around you in your vibratory pattern so you have no need to search elsewhere. You create your dreams and lives each moment; as you jump from one reality to another so do others from other dimensions. No! I smile... there is no bumping into each other, I hear you ask about the traffic, changing from dimensions, there must be accidents?

No. You see this is old earth thinking. It doesn't happen here, because anything you do not desire is prevented from manifesting in your reality fields. Or rather, if you do bump into someone in a momentary dream to inhabit another manifestation, then it is an old friend your soul has been longing to meet! Or a new friend who so perfectly matches your momentary vibrations you can't believe you didn't meet before!

Sound like paradise? It is. Actually, you do this now, it's nothing new. It is just you don't believe in your own godhead and you create tragedies instead of joy. Isn't it time you lifted your game? Isn't it time you started creating joy and wonder in your lives? I will now ease into one of the personalities that inhabit my limbs, who wishes to address you now.

JADE COUNCIL

Hello. Many of you have heard of me. I was a famous singer on your earth. Many of you still love the entity that existed in human form, despite my foibles then. I send you love divine for your love and faith. Know that I hear you as you come to my old home, flowers in your arms, love in your hearts. Yea I hear your cries and know I beseech my orionic brethren to send you your hearts desire.us

In such a manner I am honoured to be part of the Great One, who for now is called Earthstar. Yea! Truly I shalt step down again, to take an incarnate path in the planet-star that resides inside my own orionic home. How pleased I am to be able to show you my true face, this free light of love and gaiety. I wish only to sing my songs again, my true starlight songs, in gratitude to you all who have sustained me with your love for so long.

Earthstar consciousness again takes over, shuffling the energies of the once and again incarnate one to infiltrate my gaseous lightbody, so I may know joy and woe at the same time. My heart sings too now, a greater melody. Stars weave in and out of space. Their motion is my song, for truly if you could hear the song they make as they beam and move, fire and sparkle: it is beyond anything you could possibly dream. Which brings me to another modality on new earth star.

There will be a large telescope there... is that how you say it? A large building made of crystal, tall and thin, it is an antenna to the stars and those of you drawn here will listen and record the music of the stars. Musicians then will make music of this, toned down to become accustomed to your ears. Great concerts will be held, the music of the stars, outdoors and in the blessed breeze, cool night and clear, one moon rising and the other in full zenith, listen to them play their uncanny instruments. Oh! So many of you are dancing the whirling devas of cosmic love.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

I leave you now.

I am Earthstar.

I will come again to tell you of what you already know: your own desires. For what you wish to know of Earthstar manifest, is that which is to be found in your own hearts.

Do you really need me to see it for you?

I, Earthstar, Cosmic Consequence and Matrix of the ever-new, greet you in waves of flowing love. All of my parts and beings and aspects touch you in the ways you wish to be touched, your heart overflowing, your soul beaming, and I/we impart to you Love, love, love.

Embracing you in the ethers of Earthstar, I take my leave on the jade carpet.

Shhhhhhhwoooooo
shhhhhlaaaa shhhhhlluuuuuu
shhhhhhhheeeeeee

13

The Three Fairies Fuk Luk Sau

The Three Fairies come to address you. We realise this language might appear quaint to you, but is indeed what we have been called over countless time. We are Fuk Luk Sau, Fu Lu Shou, the Three Treasures of Human Life. We are Prosperity, Fortune, and Longevity. We come together as we have been knit it the halls of the gods and the minds of men thus.

We have much to tell you. Our role is changing too, as we rain our gifts upon you, till suddenly you realise you no longer need us! (* mirth *). It is “luk” prosperity, who wishes to address you first as it is this aspect you agonize over so well.

Do not you know your abundance is granted? It is in your birthright, but you have forgotten how to read your contracts. (* more mirth *) That is where we come in. We do this with ease... in actual fact we have more than enough assistants to do this for us... and then at your behest we find space within your existing contract to create the situation you desire. (Really, if you studied your own contracts well you would not need us but then we would be out of a job, wouldn't, we ... sigh...)

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Say, for example, we receive a petition from someone who wants a new, well paying job. Underlying that they may wish for the well-paying job in order to underwrite their children's education, or to buy a new house. Nonetheless as they did not petition us on those aspects we are unable to guarantee them. We can of course provide for the well-paying job to be available, if it is within the soul's contract, but there is nothing stopping humans from acting out of fear and messing up the job interview is there? (* more mirth *). We see this all the time but we are unable to do anything. It is our role to act upon your wishes and provide the circumstances for their implementation. The rest is up to YOU!

So, continuing with this example, we may provide you with a well paying job but if you didn't ask us to provide one that you enjoyed immensely then we cant specify that in the manifestation. Also, you may find the supplicant has a great job, with oodles of money rolling in, but still can't afford to provide for his children's education or buy that new house. Other debts might come up to play, he might lose the money gambling: anything could happen and there is nothing we can do about it, it is up to YOU!

You can see how specific you must be if you entreat us. In truth, our days in this form are numbered, as finally you are all waking up to your own prosperity. Honour us, for sure, for our past works, but NOW is the time to stand proud in your own prosperity.

JADE COUNCIL

I make way for my Brother of the North, Fu.

Fu, who resides of course in the Fu Xing, the Lucky Star!

This is a nomenclature, not a specific place! All stars are lucky, if you know their specific meaning. You may be wondering what is different from prosperity and fortune, and we say to you, this is a problem with terminology and culture. For “fu” is not just fortune, it also means great happiness: they are linked, but not in the way you might think. When someone is perfectly happy with their lot, whatever their lot might be, then they have “fu”, they are content and greatly happy. Ha! You thought it was the other way around, right? You thought happiness comes from wealth? No! When one is able to weave one’s way through life with a smile on one’s face, further goodness comes to you! I make way know for Brother Shou, who comes from a long way off.

I am Shou Xing, Celestial God of the Southern Stellar Pole. I rule over times of births and deaths. I would have you know I am so busy now, as there are so many who wished to be birthed on your world, in this time of great changes. And these ones! Many have never before incarnated on such a planet, and to find suitable places and spaces for their incarnate existence is not always easy. Lucky I have many worthwhile helpers!

I have in the past maintained a very strict regimen on these matters of birth and death, as they were details in your past world which could not be changed, unless in very exceptional circumstances. All that is changing as you move into the new world where you will have full control over the manner of bodies you inhabit and whence you choose to change them!! So I'm out of a job! Ha! Yet I am very excited as I will be moving closer to you, to take up a new role, more of which I shall share in a later transmission. For now, I wish to tell you also that the place of my inhabitation has changed too. I reside, as I have mentioned, in the southern celestial pole, which used to be found by pointing from the constellation you know of as the Southern Cross. My destination then has been hidden for centuries but I tell you now sometime back I moved to a new star and this new one is completely of my liking. In fact it is closer to you and resides in or near Antilia and yes, you are right, this is not directly the southern celestial pole!

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Ha! I tell you it is in this location as it shall be! When earth moves from her current grid she shall be replaced in the heavens by newer bodies who shall take over her spin. Her new residence place shall have new celestial poles, of course. Now Antlia is not exactly the celestial pole of the new residence of earth but is linked to my new roles around the stars of new earth.

That is all I can say for now. The time has not arisen for me to tell more of the roles I shall play, apart from they already come under my jurisprudence and I act within them NOW. However due to the way you perceive time/space from onboard Earth, this new role of mine hasn't happened yet, from your perspective, so I am prevented from telling it!

Lastly I wish to address you concerning my existent persona. Truly I am not a person at all, I am not even an "i". Humans have formatted the energies I represent into a human-like figure to make it easier for you all to understand me. Yes, “me” as such is not like the “me” you are accustomed to thinking of. “i” am a flowing energy field. Within this flowing energy field are nodes of brightness. It is the nodes of brightness which impact you, the nodes of brightness are impelled by the consciousness of others - the ones who petition the births and deaths of humans - to shine in a sudden burst. It is that sudden burst of light which determines the dates and times of entering into and leaving human manifestation. There is nothing “conscious” about it, in the sense of no reasoning involved, it is simply a burst of light in alignment with all other bursts of light and within this light code is specific details relevant and pertinent to the particular soul’s energetic matrix.

JADE COUNCIL

We work together simply because we have been put together in the human mind, however there is nothing particular intrinsic in the nature of our work to insist upon our togetherness. We have become, however, over the millennia, quite used to each other’s company! We quite like it in fact!

Again, I must relate to you that we are not humans who like to gather for a cup of tea and a chat, and when I say, “we have become used to each other’s company”, this is not to mean we have individuated consciousnesses who choose to “hang out” together! No, it is far from how it exists!

To attempt a better description, it is to say that since human thinking has placed us together for so long, the energetic manifestations of our workings overlap each other. Long subtle energy trails are weaved from one stellar location to another making a nice fine web. Of course, we don’t need to use this, our energies can interlink at the point of perception; however it has created a flimsy of starlit web in the place you perceive of as your “skies”. Again, this is of human construction, an outcome of your belief systems and nothing intrinsic about “us”.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

We leave you with the task to ponder your own prosperity, fortune, and lifetimes, as surely NOW you are masters of your own selves! We leave you to ponder the silver shiny web of your own existences, the fabric made when you engage in the dynamics of self-proclaimed and self-made prosperity, fortune, good health and long life!

It is your own brilliance that now unfolds you!

Rise to shine like the stars you are!

13

Universal Space

Greetings from the Universal Space.

By now you will know that my large eye-sockets are for inserting crystalline spheres of varying proficiencies, for the purpose of extra-stellar communication. Differing modules of gem and light are calibrated to go the distance to specific stars. Notice the two raised bumps above my mouth. These are for attaching specially calibrated wands of gold, acting as antennas to attract the Space frequency.

All of this is a highly specialized science. Before proceeding, I wish to tell you that I, Universal Space (yes, it is a name as well as what in your perceptions might be clarified as a destination) am one of those Beings who is FULLY INCUMBENT in the physical being of my Jade Body. Indeed, as a fully incumbent one, I am one of the Elders of the Jade Council. Along with Adena, Xi Wang Mu (Queen Mother of the West) and Bi Xia as an assistant, we are the configatory members of the Jade Elders Council of Communication Matters. In short, this means we are the ones who first planned and established this Council.

I entered into this Jade space many eons ago by your counting.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

There i rested in mediation, whilst simultaneously taking up my position in the far-off galactic space in the heavens, the “universal space”. As you see I am named after my titalotory substance. My energetic being and the “universal space’ in which I reside is one and the same.

To further clarify, the ‘me” that is residing in the Jade Body of Ancient Tutelage, is the same as the “me” residing in the Universal Space. We are one and the same. There is no “soul split” nor “fragments’ nor “partial occupation” of any one place: I occupy both positions simultaneously, with authority and presence. Gladly I will tell you this is a fairly easy task. I am happy to give you further information on the technicalities of this at a later time, should you request this.

Part of my training in the Ancient world was to be multidimensional. I followed a very strict routine from my beloved master. I trained from an early age in ancient Daoist techniques including fasting, star-activation in the physical body, gong fu exercises, variations on qi gong, and of course alchemical digressions. I did not pass from my earthly existence as human via the alchemical magic method: mine was one of sheer training and willpower. All that serves merely as a slight introduction to my background and qualifications to be presenting you with this discourse.

I start now: : : :

When Jade first fell from the Sky, we knew of its arrival. It was in the far distant past, and not of the training lifetime I just told you about. I was incumbent in an area of the world whose particle formations are now resident in North China. Such were the days: Shamans of great renown (of which I was one * *smiling) predicted the fall of Jade. It came in the form of a kind of meteorite, and implanted itself on a hill we still call Jade Mountain.

JADE COUNCIL

Following the shamans' directions we all worshipped this incredible lighted stone. It came with great light awakening the whole sky, and rained over various locations in our then world. Consequently, variations of the original substance are found all over your now world. In the pre-times, it mixed with other minerals to form the subcategories you now have: nephrite, golden jade, greenstone, light jade, the colourful jades, and pure jade. As it fell and landed it was hot, very hot. Having fallen from such a great way in the heavens, and the speed of travelling beyond our comprehension, this material remained molten for quite some times.

 smiling *****

I see you now have some clues to the previous information others in our illustrious company have presented. And yes, before you ask, the substance you know of as "gold-infused quartz" was constructed in the same way. It was our Shamans (including myself) who instructed the best craftsmen to construct specific pieces.

There were many shaman animal pieces, humanlike pieces, jade discs ("bi") of star orientation, and other lesser known objects not important here for our purposes. Returning to Jade, the purest and most powerful of this material was established in an earth matrix whose land-edges are now manifest in the part of earth known as Mongolia/Siberia/ North China. This was known to the ancients and to many civilizations that have inhabited this area over time. It was in the first days when the Jade-meteor fell that this substance was at its peak. Clear untransmuted heavenly essence was transmuted from Beyond to the earthly world to fix the etheric holes caused by some unsavory energies of which we shalt not speak.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

It was thence we went full board to make the materials we would need for now. Taking molten rock we stirred the cauldrons and cooled slightly to exactly the right temperature. You might think this was easy but I tell you it was not. Much of the world was then covered in ice. (Yes, I confirm the Mayan pieces were taken by some of us in the Great Walk and others travelled by boat. The later day carvings are not of the same caliber precisely because they were “carved” and not molded out of pure intent with our hands.)

We placed the molten streams of Great Green into snow caves, and buried them in shapes of clay. First we molded the shapes - in this case human faces - out of clay and fired them, and after that we inserted the molten jade into these molds. The tricky part was getting the right temperature as too cold would simply freeze the substance before it had time to merge into the mold, and often cause unsightly cracks which yelled out to us shamans in our dreams. Oh, the cries of broken Jade! You cannot imagine. But I digress. If the temperature was not cold enough then the molten material would simply crack and break the earth-mold.

Many of us stood around, measuring the temperatures with our minds and intenting the process. At times we made adjustments: at first major ones and when we became more familiar with the process we made fine yet crucial adjustments. The temperatures had to be very specific right down to minuscule of degrees.

JADE COUNCIL

Ah! The Shaman cradles the Being with her hands!
Ah! The Shaman sings!
Ah! The Shaman dances
Ah! The Shaman cradles the Baby with her hands!
Ah! The Shaman sings!
Ah! The Shaman dances!

Ah! The Shamans dance in circle!
Oh! The Moon comes down to Earth!
Ah! The Shaman sings!
Oh! The Shaman dances!

Ah! The Shaman's Baby is born!
Ah! The Earth delights in her majesty!
Ah! The Shaman sings!
Ah! The Shaman dances!

Ah ah oh oh uh uh oh
Ah ah oh oh uh uh oh!
Behold the glorious Being of Jade has been born onto Earth!
Ah ha ah ho, Heaven and Earth Unite!
Ah ha ah ho, Heaven and Earth conclude!
Ah ha ah ho, Heaven and Earth are here!
Ah ha ah ho Heaven and Earth and We!

Thus we sang in the Dreamtime. And thus the Jade Baby was born. I now leave you to integrate this message and shall return later with further of my indebtedness to pass on to you. In concluding for now, I wish to restate that I came from the thence to *the now through the halls of ah men di and have not remained incumbent throughout the ages.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Thus I am here and there; Thus my story is pure
Thus my energies link you to the farway times
Creational times*

Universal Space of the 9-squared dimension.

14

Universal Space 2

Universal Space returns to address you.

As I mentioned in my first transmission, I have come directly from the Ancient times to here/now. This serves us in many ways. Firstly, as for myself, I have not had to go through the eons of half-asleep waiting. To go through this lengthy waiting period as some of my colleagues went through leaves its own scars, of course, and requires some “waking up period” and a time for readjustment.

The benefits of travelling directly through the time-space tunnel are that I am fresh with my knowledge of the thence. This of course benefits you greatly. Yet the most important factor is this:

This jumping thru dimensional time allows me to create a bridge.

This rainbow bridge is of my own construction: indeed, it is made of my own soul substance.

From here/now to that thence, there now is a shimmering bridge of Light. Enter it, should you will, here, I shall accompany you across it.

There! Now for those of you who chose to come with me, you are now here in the long-ago times. Some of you perhaps remember it, or at least hold deep soul memories of this time, imprinted on your cells since time immemorial. There are others, new to this planet, yet hold great spiritual essence and are able to make this leap in time with me. All of you, who have come with me across the Rainbow Bridge to the times when Jade Mountain was young, have a purpose to play now in its transformation.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

As I said before, the purpose of Jade's arrival on our planet was to keep the essence that fed the ley-lines intact. Now in these days of transformation, Jade is being called again to commence work on these important substations. In fact, Jade herself has already started this work, and has been doing it for some time. What marks this period, the intense energies of unfolding around the 08/08 landmark, is that humans are now requested to help and join in with the foundational matrices that Jade has set. So, should you be called to this work, herein I give you guidelines for aligning yourself with Jade and beginning the entry point to her essential energy.

First, cleanse your jade piece. If you do not have one, then promptly find your Jade partner. I refer to the excellent guidelines given by the Jade Maiden (the Maiden of the Jade Essence) in this respect. Spend a period of new moon to full moon to waning moon to fully acquaint yourself with your Jade. Do this even if your Jade is an old friend: for she (or he.. some jade entities do resonate more with Yang) has been opened now to her true nature and spiritual power.

On the second new moon, affirm your intentions to work with Jade and your Jade partner establishing the thoroughfares and the Jade Essence matrix, which will form the backbone of the new Earthstar grids. (we use the term 'new earthstar' here as it is one you use, actually we have another term and do not resonate so much with the word 'new' as this existence is eternally vibrating.)

JADE COUNCIL

Nonetheless, despite the anomalies of time-space curving in upon itself, we do have to do the building blocks now. It is not my intention nor role to get into a discussion of the complex realities of “time’ mechanics; there are far better people for that job, anyhow! (* laughter ****)

On the second new moon you have affirmed your intent to work conjointly with your Jade partner to prepare the matrix for the bones of earthstar. Pay close attention to your dreams in till the next full moon. Record them in a notebook. Some of you may be afforded with visions. Thus you are shown your role and responsibilities as you partner with your Jade.

I cannot give you explicit instructions as to your function, as each individual has differing and complementary roles to play. If you have done as I say and you have good karma, you shall know where next to tread. Suffice to say on the full moon, the 16th day of the next lunar month, take your Jade and yourself out for a moon-bath and frolic in the waters. It is on this day/night that you fully intent the scope of the months dreams and incorporate your work into substantial reality. Again, dreams shall point the way and spirit guides shall come. Be open to them, and listen.

Spend the rest of the month anchoring the energies you thus created and fine-tuning aspects of it. Tie the threads and strings of your work firmly into the bones of the earth you stand on. On the last days of the old moon intent that this work is fully accomplished to your best ability. Then let go. Forget it. As the new moon starts, repeat this process all over again and wait to be granted with a new task.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

I shalt see you here, no doubt, in the bones of Jade, as we ravel Jade Substance into the glorious body of Terra and weave magic thru her perennial substance. Remember, then is now, now is whence, the future rides in your dreams.

I am Universal Space and I wish you well in your adventures. I remain sitting on the Jade Council and open my energy/auras to any of you who should wish to consult me further in this endeavor. I here-with implant a code-seal within this space so you may contact me with relative ease. (&&%(&* Code-seal planted and activated.)

Goodnight.
I am Universal Space.
Salutations.

14

Patience

My name is Patience.

Of course I have had other names throughout the ages: this is the name I choose for the now in my interactions with you. I am not strictly a member of the Jade Council. I appear here under their auspices to impart knowledge relating to the carving of crystal beings. You refer to them as skulls and we abhor that word. The term skull implies a “dead” hollow substance... bones or skeletons with no life. This is far from the truth. We refer to these ones as Crystal Beings or Crystal People.

In the ancient days we used arrowheads to carve the beings. The best tool for carving was quartz. Special fashioned tools with a quartz point attached to a wand or bone that functioned as a handle was used to make the shape. I say carve, but this is a rather gruff word. Rather we coaxed the shape out of living stone.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Why the shape of the human skull? Indeed we had many shapes but for the purposes we had, the human skull shape resembled the structure in which the human brain resided, so when a spirit wished to transfer consciousness from human form to crystal being, it was easier, as the shape was similar. Different materials were used for different purposes.

The quartz were used mainly for information storage, while the coral crystalline beings were best if one wished to put almost the entirety of ones spirit inside this carved being. Of course there are a multitude of reasons why certain substances should be chosen, practical reasons being amongst them. Seafaring peoples made more use of coral for obvious reasons, yet there is much more to the story of coral.

Living coral contains synapses very similar to the human brain. A piece of coral parted from the main mother coral, can still live for some time as a separate entity. Under the right conditions the offspring will simply form another layer of her own and multiply into reefs. This still-living coral is the form we used. I must emphasize that we never deliberately broke of coral pieces; we waited till Grandmother Coral left us something to work with. We always had exactly what we needed. For special purposes we mediated and asked Grandmother Coral to provide us what we would require. She would often leave a marvelous piece of coral, washed up on the beach the next day.

As I was saying, this still living coral was soft and pliable. We did not carve her then, no, we had no need. We gently molded her shape to match the design. In the case of imitations of the human skull, the person whose head was being modeled would sit with the Coral, holding it in her hands, offering her thoughts and knowledge over for symbiosis. The coral would wave and dance in the sun and pieces would break off under the sculptors trained hand. The pieces that broke off would be carefully stored for later usage. Of the remaining piece, once it had the required shape, we would gently coat it with a particular resin. Then we would leave it dry in the sun. Again, the sculptor and the model would sit with the Coral, for weeks usually, until it was hardened and ready. Finishing touches were applied by polishing it with gentle flaxen cloth and a special water of gem essences. After that a subtle paint was put on as a protection layer. Once all that had been achieved, from time to time certain other addendums were added, like painting eye-sockets, adding another mineral specimen to sit beside it.

JADE COUNCIL

By this time the model would have left a substantial amount of her presence there with Coral. We then conducted special ceremonies to inoculate the Coral Being – who was alive and had never died, merely undergone transformation in her consciousness – into the essential spirit matrix of the model. There were times when it was determined that the model's actual soul substance should enter the crystal and remain there. Only specially trained shamans undertook this task. From the others, a genetic matrix was implanted, which could be unlocked by the model in future lives. We remind you this is happening again now.

I turn now to the modeling of various types of quartz crystal. We preferred to work with clear white quartz, and a particular type was preferred which came from a certain part of the planet whose land-mass is now manifested in the Himalayan Mountains. This Himalayan Quartz, as we shall call it, had a very special spiritual quality to it: it oozed with divine intent. The ones we modeled from the Himalayan quartz were leaders and wise men and women.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Other types of quartz were also used often. Animals, magic amulets, all manners of things were carved from this. The crystal beings in the form of human heads were made regularly. When a shaman was about to transform (we mean leave the physical body), a piece would be commissioned to hold the gestalt of her/his learning. The sculptor would carve the piece with the shaman by her side. S/he would intent information and certain healing sounds and matrixes inside the carved piece.

I must now explain a bit the term “carved”. I use it for convenience, as it is a term you understand readily. But the minerals were not really “carved” in the sense you understand it now. It was much more a “two-way street”. The sculptor was required to enter the consciousness of the mineral to determine its suitability for each project. What mineral is sharper than quartz? Yes, you guessed it, but diamonds were not often used for this. Actually, we had some extra-terrestrial material to use, rather like your lasers of today.

The ancient ones used pure intent, of course, visualizing the mineral to meld and change shape, holding that thought pattern, and waiting till it manifested. This kind of work is actually returning today, I am proud to report. As I mentioned, we had association with some foreigners then: “foreigners” in this case meaning extra-terrestrials, those who came from off our planet. Some of the jades and others we carved then were in representation of these ones. The extraterrestrials left us their own carved pieces too. As you can see this subject is very complicated. Returning to the subject of jade, it is really the mother of all minerals to be used in the making of these spirit sculptures. You might be forgiven for thinking that this is simply a gathering of jade aficionados, but I can assure you for my part it is not. My specialty as I mentioned is the procedures for molding, carving and infusing the sculptures with consciousness. I can tell you all about it, as I spent many lifetimes perfecting this skill. This technology predates the Motherland of Mu. While it was used often there, it stems originally from prehistoric times, when the ancients wished to contain the spirit of their shaman upon whom they depended so much for survival.

JADE COUNCIL

I have described to you workings with coral and variations of quartz. To finalize the quartz it should be addendum-ed that there were many varieties of Quartz and each had their special modalities and idiosyncrasies. Now I merge onto Jade.

Working with Jade in these spirit sculptures is like nothing on earth. It is completely unlike the “carving” of the other minerals. In the best circumstances: in fact in all that I know of: the jade was mysteriously molten, then smoothed by hands clad in special gloves to avoid too much skin contact. How the jade became molten is not under discussion here. I can attest however the marvelous liquid colours: deep deep emerald greens, so different from the cool state. It was quite secret too where such quantities of Jade could be found. Only the royal family and certain alchemists who specialized in this area knew it.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Today there are still substantial deposits, due to the location being kept highly secret and the vein not overworked. It was also known this grounded jade must be kept for posterity: the posterity that is now! It is the very essence of this underground Jade that shall see us so well in the transformative years. This unspoilt jade deep in the ground is keeping the spiritual channels of earth alive and well, and without it, planet earth and her occupants could easily “spin out”. This is why the jade maiden of a previous transmission instructed you to find old jade. So there will be no market for the new.

When these Jade Beings were made by the ancients, they were made for the specific purpose of serving as vessels for those same spirits in the now times. In this sense jade is kind of a timetraveller. You might say all of the crystalline beings are this, but it would not be strictly true. You see the Jade Ones, actually literally jumped from the thence to the whence, without going through the long timelines. Or some of them did. Some of them of course did get buried and lost in the dimensional sequence, but this was not meant to happen. You can easily tell the Ones which made the jump forward: they sparkle with gaiety and light and appear to have no mud at all upon them. Dust does not settle easily upon these time-jumping ancients.

Jade holds a very special quality that makes working with it so special. It seems to attune itself to your consciousness, bringing out things that you didn't know about yourself or the job at hand. It even asks questions of you to highlight certain preparations needed for the specific job. All minerals have consciousness of course but the special way Jade has of interacting with the sculptor, in a very calm, subtle and patient way is extraordinary. It would be fair to say that Jade taught me patience.

JADE COUNCIL

Now I have covered three major minerals used in the ancient times for carving the crystalline beings. I would also like to briefly mention the brown mineral... this I used only in emergency situations. It contains urgency about it, and is entered into by spirits who have urgent messages to tell. Consequently these ones are more frequency transmitters. They are holders of codes that allow many spirits to enter as needed: they are not a home for any one specific consciousness. This would explain any contradictions you might feel in coming from the messages of the brown ones.

I, Patience have given you a basic overview of some of the principles involved in molding and carving crystalline beings. I humbly offer my great thanks to the Jade Council for inviting me here to do this. I hope in the future to be of service again and to continue to explain to you the ancient technologies of working with crystalline beings.

Most Cordially,
Patience Wind of the Western Sky Segment.

15

The Jade Council

discusses various aspects of Jade and its mechanisms and its relationship to Gold

I would like to now invite the Jade Council to speak on the structuring and formation of the new earth-body, specifically the part that Jade places in this.

We come to you and confirm we have been swirling around your existent space, waiting for a chance to address you on this most important issue. We would like first to address the current round of earth movements you are experiencing. The being you refer to as Gaia is indeed fed up. Her transformation is real and can no longer be ignored by the many. This will continue over the next two years, in varying degrees of intensity. You shall see more rains, more hurricanes, more flooding. You shall also see areas of extreme drought. You may wonder why your prayers are not being answered. Our answer to you is this: simply this:

JADE COUNCIL

They are.

Your prayers are being answered in more myriad ways than you know how. For those of you linked in to the Earth-changes, you are now locked in. What is good for you is good for earth. In this way, your prayers are being answered. In your own physical and spiritual changes and alignments with the Light, you are linked unconditionally, totally, with the Earth-ball. So you see your nightmares are not of your creation, they are the ways in which Gaia can literally “let off steam”. If you find significant hardship, please believe us when we say this is not your karma. This is your path of Service to the Great Being of Terra, known to you as Gaia. Our advice to you is to not become stuck in it, don’t panic over the details. Greet your tragedies with smiles and welcome: you will find they fade quickly. For indeed the human race, for those of you aligned with light, will find the human body is very buoyant and will heal like it was meant to: instantaneously, over the course of a few days.

Yes! For that is as it should be. Many of you have already been determining the form you will take in the new earth-ball. Your higher guides and the most essential... most spiritual... the essence of YOU... this part of you has already determined the form, the physical form you will take in the new world. Many of you are already consciously aware of this. This is our current assessment of your situation.

Now we would like to return to the true purpose of our transmissions, which is, as you have mentioned, how Jade manifests and functions in the building of the planetary complex. There are two main and essential ingredients in this process:

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

The concept of “gold” and the concept of “jade”.

Why do we say “concept”?

Because indeed all things are a concept.

In one of your western traditions it was said “in the beginning was the word, and the word was god” Our own Dao says

“dao ke dao, bu shi dao”

The Dao that manifests is not the Dao. This phrase has often be translated as “the dao which speaks is not the dao”. Herewith we draw your attention to the importance of the concepts of words and spoken truth in your traditions. “Concept” predates words. A concept, a feeling, an essence, must come before a word. A breath comes before a word, the inhalation and exhalation of Dao.

So we are left then with the concept of gold and the concept of jade.

You have seen, have you not, the “golden realms”.

There you see everything in spirit form, golden and golden beyond gold. Anything manifest in that arena is simply shades of gold. Are we not correct? Is this not what you have seen? Yes. So this gold is a concept, and understanding, a visual and material manifestation of this spectrum of light. Of course when we say “material manifestation” this is manifest material in relation to our world, which is of course much less dense than your world!

To continue, you understand that this Golden matrix, this Golden Light as you would phrase it is one of the underlying building blocks of this Universe. It enters through the breath of Dao into manifest reality and creates and splits and forms the Creatrixes, many, who formed the universe.

JADE COUNCIL

WE are now here to tell you that IN AS MUCH THERE IS A MATRIX OF GOLD THERE IS ALSO A MATRIX OF JADE.

This is much misunderstood and little known. It is the time now to begin awakening the consciousness of humanity as to the form and function of Jade. Jade Essence is a precious thing; it is a vibration of all that is beyond knowing. It is the wisp of the outer universe; it is that from which all physical worlds are built in this universal matrix, it is the foundation of all green things. Green things contain chlorophyll, that most essential of things for growth and function in the physicality. And what is chlorophyll made from?

Yes, we proudly tell you it is made from “Jade Essence”, from the concept of Jade. So you see there is much more to this Jade than just a pretty mineral. Like Gold, it is the ‘essence’ of Jade which “lives” in the “beyond of beyonds’, the far mysterious, the Xuan Tien. Yes, it has a colour of spirit, and yes, this colour is Jade. We refer not to green. We refer to that elusive beyond elusives, the mannerism in which a spiritual consciousness is existent in a colour. We realise this may be a difficult concept for you to understand so we explain further.

It is the spiritual breath of life that infuses Light. When you think of Light, do you not often think of “white light’ and “golden light”? Do you not think of “white light” as the building block of the Universe?

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

And yes it is; yet where does this “white light” come from? We tell you it comes from the Essence of Gold and the Essence of Jade.

We wish now to address the mineral entities, the veins of earth that lie under the surface of your earth-ball. Herein lie the basic bones of earth; the ridges and lines of minerals form the dragon lines, the ley lines, the forces of energy and the portals of consciousness. Much as you depend on your blood to enrich you and your veins to transport blood, Gaia depends upon the mineral veins to transport the essential etheric energy, the qi, which keeps her alive. The lines of Jade are few yet precious. For in them they contain the essence of pure creational beyond-beyond qi.

Gold as you know creates within its expression the channels and grids to keep the planetary consciousness and all who depend upon her aligned to the stellar, galactic, and universal grids. The Star you name Spica is instrumental in this process. She is a giant transmitter who receives, transmutes, relays and processes input from many planetary and stellar consciousnesses. She is kind of an intergrational matrix, or a central computer in your technical allegories. A planet devoid of the concept of gold cannot integrate into its own Being. Consequently it is lost, unable to integrate into the wider stellar, galactic and universal consciousnesses. Those inhabiting this kind of world also then find it very difficult to integrate in the wider universe.

The mining of gold leaves unbelievable scars over a planet, and sends the beings – human, animal, and plant life – living in such an area into a great void. The void makes them confused, very confused, and a multitude of diseases follow. It is a sad story. Jade however was never so prevalent on earth. It came as we have mentioned before in a great rolling meteor, to fall onto earth.

JADE COUNCIL

We know this Being well. Indeed, he now goes by the name of Thunder, his role is the Thunder God. So you can see his superfluous power. Integrated into the meteor consciousness was great strength of purpose.

His purpose was to integrate the “concept of Jade’ or the essence of Jade into mineral form. This green life was already unfolding on the earth-ball in plant form, and it too sprung from the Essence of Jade, a consciousness beyond this Universal matrix, much as Gold is existent beyond this Universe. So Thunder Meteor came filled with the mineral expression of Jade to enter your Earth-ball and enrich it with divine Light.

We wish to address the Chinese word for this Jade. Yu: the character is made up of the word for King with an extra addendum. This is to signify it is indeed King of the Mineral Kingdom. This expression and function is of course very misunderstood, as your kings and royalty on earth, in many cultures, are not in the divine Light. We shall say no more on this matter for now and will address it later as it becomes relevant. We would like to continue with a small discussion on the places and forms Jade Essence has entered into the crystalline realms. You know this mineral essence by many names: nephrite, greenstone, jade. Across the world in small substations, jade is still found. In fact there are substantial deposits not yet known to humankind, and it is our intention it stays that way. Look what happened when the gold miners went rampant! To dissolve jade from its boundaries in the bones of earth would create a similar yet different sense of dislocation.

Unlike Gold, Jade is not an essential “building block” of the creational matrix of earth; rather it is the foundation matrix of spiritual consciousness. By this we mean its presence in the body of earth contains the codes and maintains the frequencies by which the human spirit can transcend beyond the material plane. This is not to say without Jade this could not happen, rather that “the concept of Jade” is what was chosen to represent, enclose, contain and direct the flow of this energy from human beings. Why did the royalties of ancient times surround their burial tombs with Jade? Why do some Polynesian societies treasure their greenstones and where them around their necks? Why do the Chinese believe jade to offer protection from evil?

It is not so much its character as a protection mechanism, more in its positive connection and channeling ability to connect the human Being with their greater spirit being, their soul. Once this connection is made, the greater Being by its nature protects its human expression.

In later transmissions, we shall discuss further the processes of Jade as she integrates and oversees the formational matrixes of the new planet-being.

We will now discuss the colourings of Jade. While gold in your world signifies everlasting and pure love Jade represents subtle yet strong spirit. Jade is not the colour green. While Jade manifests primarily in your world as a substance with colour, it is also white, lilac, red, red-green and gold-speckled. The “gold-jade” is a special mineral created especially for your new world, in recognition of the depths of physicality of your experiences to emerge bright, pure spirit. So you can see jade is not a colour, though it manifests in your world as colourful. In your new world Jade is already manifest. Its predominant manifestation is not the jewel you know it as, rather it is an etheric spirit, light green in colour and gaseous, floating in the ethers of your becoming planet.

JADE COUNCIL

Yes, it does solidify. Our Sister spoke of the Jade Mountain. This is a monumental being. In a rare and subtle location, the Jade Mountain will not be seen by all, even amongst those who have graduated to the new earthstar. Only those with an affinity for Jade will see her. The mountain is absorbed in the special qi of this select area, behind distant mountains yet beside the sea, existing in a loop of time and space not readily travelled. Yet for those who do visit Her, the Jade Mountain will gift treasures unlike any other. She will offer the advice of the soul and a gift that transmutes time: she will take you to the essence of the problem about which you came to ask her advice. She will assist you in substantial and accurate time-travel to help you solve this problem. For those of you who come simply in worship, she will incorporate your name in her living memory and give you blessings untold.

The process and purpose of Jade in the new earth-ball is to augment the natural cycle of the planet-star herself. Jade is integral to the new earth's function, as integral as air is to your being. Jade initiates cycles of innovation and integration, allows for constant renewal and regrowth, and gives solidity to the rocky surface in ways you cannot imagine. Again, we insist, we do not speak of the mineral specimen you think of now as jade. We speak of an etheric substance, which solidifies in the planes of manifest reality, in which your new earth still exists. The parts of earth that shall survive the great holocaust are the parts that have been touched by jade. Surely by now you know how to interpret this sentence and we shall give no further instructions.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

We wish now to address the rate in which your hearts beat in accordance with subterranean rhythms. You may think this is off our topic yet you shall soon find it is not. Jade is particularly skilled at this. You see, as you know, all of the parts of your bodies resonate with Mother Gaia, and your heart, if it functions properly, beats in time with the heart of Gaia.

JADE STONE IS THE MANIFEST PATH THAT ALLOWS FOR THE SYNCHRONIOUS EXPRESSION OF HEARTBEATS.

This time we do specifically refer to jade as a mineral, jade stone found in the ground. Can you begin to imagine what happens to you if you take too much jade from the ground? The absence of gold causes deep spiritual vacancy, a loss which borders on the psychotic, and the absence of jade causes your hearts to beat irregularly, out of kilter. So you can see how wholesale mining distorts not only the face of your beautiful planet but cripples your bodies. Please understand it is not necessary for this jade to be found as concrete stone all over the world for this to happen. The mechanism is much more subtle than that. Jade exists in the veins of the earth in lumps of untouched spaces: cold spaces, which prohibit further exploration. Much as a remote radar can connect you with friends across the world by wireless technology and satellite transmission, Jade sends wavelengths down to the Heart of Earth and reaches out to all incarnates, mammals, reptiles, birds, humans, pulling and receiving the spectrum of heartbeats. Its substance and structure is that it can receive these wavelengths and transmute them via jade pathways to the heart of Earth.

JADE COUNCIL

Red colour in jade is a certain construct with assists in grounding. It is indeed a mineral mixed in the substance of pure jade and this produces red jade or red/green jade. For those adepts who were able to attune to its energies, the red jade assisted them to ground their consciousness in the Earths; central atoma. In the old days this was not so easy and needed a thorough and strict regime of Daoist or shamanic practice. The mixture of minerals in the red jades allows the Jade consciousness to fully ground to the central crystal and the lifelines of earth. These lifelines are not the usual dragonlines nor leylines commonly spoken off, rather they are specific energy constructs for Gaia herself, rather like pathways for human blood. These pathways emit certain charges, which allow for the consciousness of Gaia to infiltrate key places, which are often recognized by indigenous peoples as sacred or medicine places.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Of course this red jade is not present in all of the subterranean structures but its purpose is to blend the “heavenly” consciousness of jade with earth’s minerals. Having done this the red jade is able to transmute the “heavenly consciousness” into other areas and minerals. In this manner you have stumbled on the major role of Jade: to transmit heavenly consciousness to earth. Returning to the adepts, if they placed themselves in a place of red jade, they would then be able to, by virtue of the currents in the pathway of the red, send their consciousness down through the earth’s layers into the central crystal.

The place of white jade, being the purest form, was to certainly attune the adept to the High Heavenly Consciousness. It required special skill and awareness to do this, and only the specially trained amidst the specially trained: that is to say amongst all adepts only a few could work with the energies of White Jade. In fact there was a mountain, White Jade Mountain, where adherents of this practice could come to commune. This place does and did not exist in your physical world, but in another dimension where the adepts would fly.

We leave off this discussion of the colours of Jade for a further time.

JADE COUNCIL

16

The Most August and Most Honoured Reverent upon High

August Jade Emperor

comes to speak through the Jade Council of Elders

The last Being to address us is not a member of the Jade Council, but rather comes to speak through them.

The most August and Most Honoured Reverent upon High August Jade Emperor comes to speak through us and give us, the Jade Council, messages. Messages for our benign selves as well as you, for we are also ascending and transforming with you.

1. The template of transcendence

The template has not changed essentially from pre-history. We beseech you:

1. Eat and drink in moderation.
2. Eat meat sparingly and if so then with grace and gratitude
- 3 Beware the four evils; lust, greed, avarice and mis-truth

Take care of your young ones in the coming times.
Feed them daily with laughter and sunshine
For if they start to worry, you are lost

JADE COUNCIL

For it is in the very breaths of the young ones in whose innocent joy the world is transforming.

We warn you of dangers to come and mountains of ash to fall.

Fear not, it is all preordained.

Take care in your daily habits and indulge not to excess

Be careful when travelling

Light incense to the deities and thus you shall be safe.

2. The topography of transcendence

Yes for the now it has started. We confirm the beginnings of the roll of the great earth changes.

We wish you all to be safe and well:

So we confirm and advise:

The leylines are changing.

The new are already in place and beginning to function. Like electricity they start being inundated with light; a spark in the corner of the beginning travels like wildfire through the new grids. The old ones, the old ley lines - or dragon lines or songlines - which kept your countries operating and breathing, have been dismantled. As of NOW they no longer function. The circuitry has been over-rid and the new paths have been wired.

This of course will cause massive confusion especially amongst the sensitives who do not understand what is happening. By this we specifically mean sensitive people who have not opened in consciousness to the enormous changes currently undergoing upon your planet.

We beseech you:

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS

Be gentle with these people. When people around you are stressed, upset, "acting crazy": be gentle with them. Hug them. Tell them you know how they feel. And gently seed the new Light of the Ages into them....

It is your utmost duty now to at all times to NOT PANIC but instead to breathe each breath the calm breathe of DAO. The rewiring will take some time to manifest in your realities. We confirm that in the beyond-space -time the new planet is existing. To get her to calibrate her energies and to communicate with her old form, we must send down the energies from the new and build up the energies from the old.

In this you will see there is no past and no future: just the eternal NOW, the eternal DAO. If we were to give you a course in dimensional mechanics our first instruction would be to imagine the centre point, for it is when the centre point is activated that past and future may collide, calibrate, exchange energies, and release all. For the moment, it is simply that the activation has started. From above/future it is coming down the how it is: this is to say the new planet exists in her beauty, she has established new dragon lines from her new form, she is sending them down to the old planet. The old planet is rising in her joy like a woman in pleasure, lifting up her body to receive the new codes. In such a way the old lines no longer have any power and the new lines, coming from the new planet, have been activated already.

As a consequence, yes, of course, you will continue to see wild weather, the mountains of ash shall come, the rivers who change course shall be known, the crust shall move again, the great gods shall come down and be manifest yet trust not all of them, for some will not be all as they seem, as many will try to emulate them and fabricate or duplicate their energies for their own purposes. Be as discerning as you can, as there are many who will use the language of light to persuade the innocent into their own dens of inequity.

JADE COUNCIL

I am the most August Heavenly Master Jade Emperor

I make my residence proudly in Tai Shan the Mountain of the East

I come to address the Jade Elders and greet them on their great journey

I come to be present once again on earth and activate the old and new lines

I call upon all who beseech me to use their incense to assist the ones in great difficulties during these trying times.

I call upon you all to about face, stop doing what you are doing, reassess your lives, and fill them with only love and filial purity.

Amidst the Jade Mountain i greet you and bestow upon you circlets of jade blessings.

JADE ELDER TRANSMISSIONS